

Level 2 Diploma in Network Construction Operations (Gas) and (Water)

EUIAS is an Ofqual recognised specialist awarding organisation providing regulated qualifications for the utilities industry.

We have developed the Level 2 Diploma in Network Construction Operations (NCO) (Gas) and (Water) qualifications side by side with our gas and water technical experts. This has enabled us to identify common activity and assessment requirements, and highlight the potential for recognising existing knowledge, understanding and skills and reducing the burden of having to repeat training and assessment, particularly where the learners are working in both gas and water environments.

Why choose EUIAS:

- ▶ EUIAS are the only awarding organisation to offer qualifications in both NCO Gas and Water
- ▶ Centres have the opportunity to register with one Awarding Organisation for one approval process and fee - saving time and money
- ▶ There are no minimum registration penalties
- ▶ Our NCO Qualification Specification, Assessment Strategy and guidance materials will support Centres to deliver the NCO qualifications effectively and efficiently

- ▶ The qualifications have been designed and developed to eliminate duplication of learning and assessment when learners transition between qualifications
- ▶ Learners will receive an e-Certificate for each NCO qualification or unit achieved — so there's no need to pay, and wait, for replacement certificates
- ▶ Training and guidance will be provided from our Service Delivery team, supporting Centres to register learners and claim achievements through QuartzWeb, our web based learner management system available 24/7
- ▶ Our internal team and industry experienced EQAs will be available to answer any questions, from approval through delivery and external quality assurance, to learner achievement.
